

Miss Maria Cook Is Bride of Howard Dean

Ceremony Is Performed in the Central Presbyterian Church, Followed by Reception at Ritz-Carlton

Miss Emma Peabody III

Attack of Pneumonia Compels Postponement of Marriage to C. C. Ransom

Miss Maria Cook, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry F. Cook of 31 East Seventy-second Street, was married yesterday afternoon in the Central Presbyterian Church to Howard Dean, son of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert H. Dean, of 420 Park Avenue. The ceremony was performed at 4 o'clock by the Rev. Dr. Wilton Morris-Smith, and a reception followed at the Ritz-Carlton. Miss Anne S. Hawes, of Richmond, Va., was the maid of honor, and the other attendants were Miss Nancy Walker, of Louisville; Miss Virginia Ralston, of Rochester; Miss Julia Quintance, Miss Bertha Fahys Barclay, Miss Marion Fahys Holden, Miss Lucy Bulkeley, Miss Constance Fahys and Mrs. David S. Cowles, all of New York.

The bride was in white satin and Venetian lace, wore a tulle veil and carried lilies-of-the-valley. The attendants were in hydrangea blue tulle and tulle and wore legions. They carried spring flowers. The bridegroom was in a tuxedo, and the ushers were in tuxedos. The ceremony was performed at 4 o'clock by the Rev. Dr. Wilton Morris-Smith, and a reception followed at the Ritz-Carlton. Miss Anne S. Hawes, of Richmond, Va., was the maid of honor, and the other attendants were Miss Nancy Walker, of Louisville; Miss Virginia Ralston, of Rochester; Miss Julia Quintance, Miss Bertha Fahys Barclay, Miss Marion Fahys Holden, Miss Lucy Bulkeley, Miss Constance Fahys and Mrs. David S. Cowles, all of New York.

Miss Emma Peabody, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Stephen Peabody, has been stricken with pneumonia, and in consequence her marriage to Charles Cook Ransom, which was to have taken place next Saturday in the church of the Heavenly Rest, has been indefinitely postponed.

Miss Charlotte A. Gove, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Henry Gove of 44 West Sixty-ninth Street, was married at 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon in the chapel of St. Bartholomew's Church, to La Monte Turk, son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Moore Turk, of 22 East Sixty-first Street. Only relatives and a few intimate friends were present at the ceremony. The bride was graduated from Miss Spencer's school in 1917 and made her debut that fall. She was an active war worker and prominent in Junior League work. Mr. Turk was graduated from Princeton in 1917 and was an ensign in the navy during the war.

Miss Eleanor Dougherty, younger daughter of Mrs. J. Hampton Dougherty, was married in the chapel of St. Patrick's Cathedral to Major Francis Trives, of Paris. The bride was attended only by Miss Elizabeth Wright, daughter of the Rev. Dr. and Mrs. Marie S. Wright. The best man was Robert Crawford, of New York, and the ushers were Mr. Ginnel Leberthon and Arthur Leberthon. The wedding witnesses only by relatives and a few intimate friends. A small family reception followed at Mrs. Dougherty's residence, 28 West Forty-ninth Street. Mr. and Mrs. Trives will be in New York in the autumn, but contemplate spending much of their time in France.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Melville Bull, of Brooklyn, announced the engagement of their daughter, Miss Adelaide Bull, to Lieutenant Richard C. Adams, Supply Corps, U. S. A. Miss Bull is a sister of Charles Bull, who served as a captain with the 68th Infantry during the war. He is well known as a tennis and squash player. Lieutenant Adams is a son of Mrs. Robert W. Adams, of New York, and is at present attached to the U. S. S. San Francisco.

Miss Marjorie Burr Shepard, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Louis J. Shepard, will be married to Philip Maynard Morgan, son of Mr. and Mrs. Paul B. Morgan, of Worcester, Mass., on April 22, at the home of Miss Shepard's uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Finley J. Shepard, 575 Fifth Avenue.

Princeton Opposes Bonus

Students and Faculty Regard Plan as Economically Unsound

PRINCETON, N. J., April 10.—Despite the fact that almost every undergraduate in the university would be in line for a fifty sum under the bill now before Congress for a bonus for all men who were in service during the war, Princeton's student body is strongly against the passage of such an act. The question is one which has been discussed freely on the campus, and the student opinion is almost unanimously against the bonus. Most of the undergraduates have taken courses in national economics, and the project is regarded by students and faculty alike as an unsound project. A recent editorial in "The Daily Princetonian," the undergraduate publication of the university, expresses the sentiment of the college. The editorial board of "The Princetonian" is representative of the university in that it is made up almost exclusively of men who served with the military or naval forces of the United States.

Theatrical Paper Owner Is Held in Libel Case

William H. Donaldson Is Arraigned on Criminal Charge on Fidelity League Complaint

William H. Donaldson, owner and publisher of "The Billboard," a theatrical weekly, was arraigned yesterday before Judge Mulqueen in General Sessions and released in $1,000 bail on a charge of criminal libel. He was indicted last week on complaint of several members of the Actors' Fidelity League. A paragraph in "The Billboard" of September 27, 1919, was the basis of the action.

In addition to Blanche Bates Creel, Zella Sears and Howard Kyle, who signed the formal complaint, others who complained were George M. Conan, Louis M. H. Janet Beecher, Ruth Charleston, Ruth Sharpley, Ina Claire, Leonore Ulric and Fay Bainter. The paragraph objected to is interpreted in the indictment as meaning that the men and women members of the league were lewd and immoral persons; that the women members of the league were the mistresses and seducers of the theatrical managers, and that the members knew that by accepting membership in it they were thus permitting themselves to be published in a known and advertised as lewd and immoral, and that the members as actresses and conductors of the theatrical managers were necessarily persons of low standards of personal morality as to be lost to any sense of shame and impervious to contempt. No such circumlocution was made use of in the paragraph complained of.

Removal of U. S. Dead From France Is Begun

200 Bodies of American Marines and Sailors on the Dock at Brest

PARIS, April 10.—Exhumation of the bodies of United States Marines and sailors who died outside the battle zones in this country during the war has been begun by the American Navy Department. There are now 200 flag-draped coffins at Brest awaiting shipment to the United States, and the first shipment will be made late in April. There are about 600 American navy men in this category buried in France, mostly at base ports, and of these 400 will be sent to America. Relatives of the remainder have expressed a desire that their dead be left in France.

More than 6,000 Marines were killed or died in the battle zones, and these will be exhumed by army units when they begin to remove these dead next November. Vase Brings $3,000 at Sale of Chinese Art Collection. The sale of the Edward E. Getz collection of Chinese art, which has been conducted at the Anderson Galleries, Park Avenue and Fifth Avenue Street, for the last four afternoons, was concluded yesterday. The highest price for the day was $3,000, paid for an imperial vase and stand by an unknown buyer. E. I. Farmer paid $2,500 for a black lacquer gong, a jar, A. S. Varny bought a Temple jar with cover and stand for $1,350, J. F. Gordon paid $1,225 for a Temple jar with cover and stand, and H. K. Pritchett bought a Lang Yao vase and stand for $1,050. The total for the day's sale was $20,925.50, and for the entire sale, $54,339.50.

Marburg University Drops Dr. Kunz for 'Insulting Germans'

His Annual Report as Head of Scenic Society Causes Erasure of N. Y. Gem Expert's Name From Rolls

BERLIN, April 10.—The name of Dr. George Frederick Kunz, of New York City, a widely known mineralogist and one of the honorary doctors at Marburg University, has been stricken from the rolls of the university, according to a statement to the "Vossische Zeitung" by the dean of the institution. This action was taken by the faculty, it is said, because of Dr. Kunz's "attacks and insults against the German people after the armistice, in the annual report of the American Scenic and Historical Preservation Society."

Dr. Kunz, whose home is at 601 West 110th Street, stated last night that the action of the university authorities grew out of certain statements contained in the annual report of the American Scenic and Historical Preservation Society, of which he is president, and not from personal utterances. "It is evident," Dr. Kunz said, "that I have been held responsible, as president of the society, for the opinions of other members of that organization. That is the only way in which I can explain the action of the university officials."

Dr. Kunz said that the report was written before the armistice, but probably had not been made public until the action of the university officials. He still retains the title of doctor of science and master of arts, having won these degrees at Knox College and Columbia University. Dr. Kunz has been active in many civic affairs in recent years, principal among them his leadership of the "Society of the Friends of the Statue of Liberty." He is an ardent promoter of the artistic development of Fifth Avenue. For years he has been in charge of the gem department of Tiffany & Co., and is occasionally known as an expert in mineralogy. When the Prince of Wales was in New York last fall, Dr. Kunz arranged for the planting of a tree in Central Park by the prince. In September, 1905, he was appointed by the State Department of the United States to represent this country at the international congress for the study of radiology held in Liege, Belgium. Two years later he received the decoration of Chevalier of the Legion of Honor of France in recognition of his work in science, and in February, 1908, the King of Norway conferred upon him the Cross of the Royal Order of St. Olav for his services in science and mineralogy. The Emperor of Japan in 1917 bestowed upon him the Order of the Rising Sun.

Heirs Get Howland Million

Checks in Settlement of Trust Estate Ready for Distribution

NEW BEDFORD, Mass., April 10.—Checks in final settlement of the million-dollar trust estate of Sylvia Ann Howland were prepared to-day for distribution to the 439 beneficiaries who are scattered all over the world. The accounting of the trustees, which shows that it cost $73,055 to settle the estate now grown to $1,153,129, was accepted by the Probate Court which ordered final distribution. For their services the trustees receive $56,000 and the genealogist who hunted up the heirs $10,000. Mrs. Hetty Green enjoyed the income from the estate during her lifetime, the money having been left in her trust by Miss Howland, her aunt. The present Miss Howland is the daughter of Mrs. Howland's grandfather, Gideon Howland.

Davison Home From Abroad

Attended Red Cross Conference in Switzerland

Henry P. Davison, chairman of the American Red Cross, arrived here yesterday on the White Star liner Baltic. He has spent two months in London, Paris and Geneva. In the last named place he attended a Red Cross conference, where elaborate reports were presented on typhus and plague in Eastern Europe. Raymond B. Fosdick, Under Secretary of State, was another passenger. Others were General Gaisi Nagasaki, chief of aviation of the Japanese army, and Captain L. J. Scott, a British aviator. Passengers reported that on Wednesday they ran close to an iceberg in a fog, which alarmed many persons. Captain William Finch, commodore of the White Star Line and commanding the Baltic, denied this.

Board Asks $99,000,000 To Train Wounded Men

A. W. Griffen Says He Was Asked to Resign for 'Being Too Sympathetic'

WASHINGTON, April 10.—The Federal Board for Vocational Education to-day asked Congress to appropriate $99,000,000 for 1921 to be used in the care, rehabilitation and training of wounded soldiers. Arthur W. Griffen, former head of the New York office of the Federal Vocational Rehabilitation Board assigned to care for injured soldiers, told the House Education Committee to-day that he was asked to resign for "being too sympathetic to soldiers." The committee is investigating the board's activities. "I was told that I was spending too much time in interviewing soldiers," Mr. Griffen said, "and that my attitude was too sympathetic, while the condition of the board's funds was such that restrictive measures should be applied to prevent too much training." At the time, Mr. Griffen asserted, 47 per cent of all the board's funds were being spent on administrative expense.

Record Crowds View McCormick Paintings

Portraits and Landscapes Will Be Placed on Sale Thursday Evening

Judging from the size of the crowds that yesterday attended the opening day's exhibition at the American Art Galleries of the collection of portraits and landscapes of the late R. Hall McCormick, the sale of these pieces on next Thursday evening in the grand ballroom of the Plaza Hotel will be one of the largest of the season. The important collection of Mr. McCormick includes many notable works by great British masters and contains more than fifty smaller pieces by artists of lesser fame but considered by many to be extremely valuable.

Among the larger pictures attracting attention yesterday was the Thomas Gainsborough work, called "A Girl with Pigs," showing a peasant girl sitting on a stone beside her pigs watching them devour their milk out of a brown dish. This picture is described by Sir W. Armstrong, according to the catalogue, as being one of the most valued of the artist's work, and was engraved by Richard Earlom. The picture is 50 inches high and 59 1/2 inches long. Landscapes that have been exhibited in many of the leading show places of Europe are among the works, and portraits with widely known histories are shown also. A portrait of Lady Hamilton, showing her as an Irish dancing girl, was surrounded by crowds of admirers. The countess of Argyll and her face are particularly striking. The work was purchased from Charles Sealemeyer in Paris in 1893, and was exhibited at the Art Institute in Chicago in 1895, at the Carnegie Institute in Pittsburgh in 1898, and in Copple Hall, Boston, in 1900.

Other works of equal importance will be sold at auction under the auspices of the American Art Galleries.

Debutantes in Aerial Jaunt

Members of Aviators' Ball Committee Given Joy Ride

Four of the season's debutantes took their first airplane ride at Roosevelt Field, L. I., yesterday in a special field day in connection with the second annual Aviators' Ball, which is to take place at the Hotel Ritz-Carlton, Wednesday. The four young women are members of the junior committee of the ball. They are Miss Symphonos Britton, Miss Genevieve Clendenin, Miss Rita Bowker and Mrs. Robert Gamble. Ten members of the junior committee went to the field, but arrived too late to be taken up. The girls were flown in a Curtiss Oriole, piloted by Lieutenant W. H. McMullen. During their flight a number of DH-1 and SE-5 planes from Mitchell Field came over Roosevelt Field and performed various aerial stunts.

Among other members of the junior committee who attended the field day were Miss Marion Tiffany, Miss Maud Kahn, Miss Margaret Warren, Mrs. James B. Taylor, Miss Catherine Emmet and Miss Leila Burden.

Guinness Antiques To Be Sold

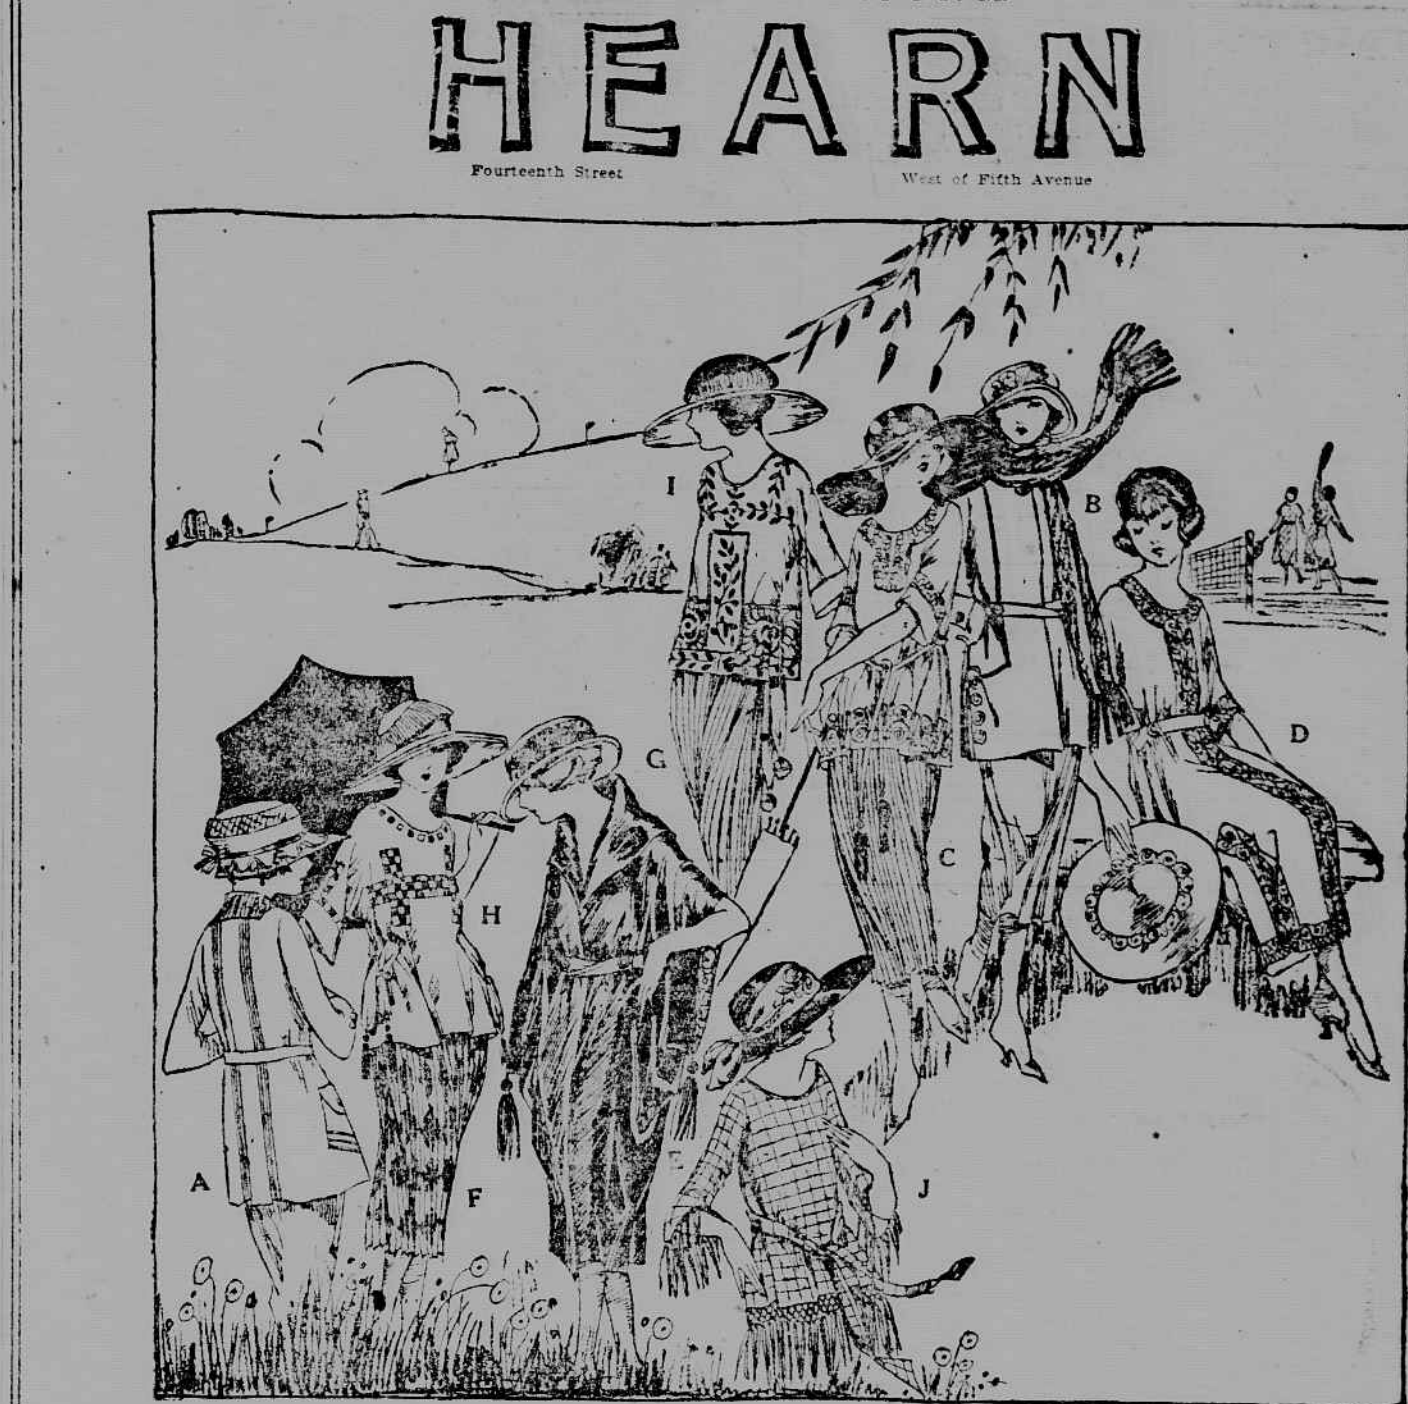

Three additional sessions of the sale of antique and modern furniture removed from the city home of Benjamin Guinness, 8 Washington Square, will be held in Sir's Fifth Avenue Art Galleries, East Forty-fifth Street and Vanderbilt Avenue, on April 14 and 15. With the remaining Guinness art properties will be sold furniture and other art objects from a Long Island country house and additional pieces from various private owners. On Wednesday there will be sessions at 11 a. m. and 2 p. m., the final sale taking place at 3 p. m. Thursday.

Miss Yvonne de Treville Gives

A Recital in Aeolian Hall

Miss Yvonne de Treville, coloratura soprano, gave a costume recital at Aeolian Hall last night. Charming attire, she sang songs of the seventeenth, eighteenth and twentieth centuries in a fragrant, yet sympathetic voice and with a clearness of enunciation that enhanced the pleasant impression left by each song. Miss Ruth Lowther Kemper, capable violinist, added variety to the occasion by playing of pieces by Tartini, Vieuxtemps, Kreisler and other composers.
